This Program is Designed For:

- Family Physicians
- Nurse Practitioners
- Internists
- Physician Assistants
- General Practitioners
- Emergency Medicine Physicians

Educational Objectives

This program will address a wide variety of common yet tough situations and dilemmas that practitioners face every day in practice.

After participating in this educational activity, the participant should be better able to:

- Utilize new drugs and current knowledge in the daily care of patients.
- Discuss various decisions and options for a variety of clinical dilemmas.
- Prepare more effectively for upcoming board exams.
- Recognize relevant and practical points of pathophysiology, pharmacology, and use of technology, in the context of clinical decision-making.

Accreditation

Tulane University Health Sciences Center is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Designation

Tulane University Health Sciences Center designates this educational activity for a maximum of 29.5 category 1 credits toward the AMA Physician's Recognition Award. Each physician should claim only those credits that he/she actually spent in the educational activity.

Tulane University Health Sciences Center presents this activity for educational purposes only and does not endorse any product, content of presentation or exhibit. Participants are expected to utilize their own expertise and judgment while engaged in the practice of medicine. The content of the presentations is provided solely by presenters who have been selected because of their recognized expertise.

AAFP

This program has been reviewed and is acceptable for 28.5 prescribed hours by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Disclosure Statement

It is the policy of the Center for Continuing Education at Tulane University Health Sciences Center to plan and implement all its educational activities in accordance with the ACCME's Essential Areas and Policies to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor. All faculty participating in these programs are expected to disclose to the program audiences prior to presentations any real or apparent conflict of interest related to the content of their presentations. This disclosure pertains to relationships with pharmaceutical companies, biomedical device manufacturers or other corporations whose products or services are related to the subject matter of the presentation topic, including off-label, experimental or investigational use of drugs or devices.

This CME activity addresses components of the six competencies identified by the ABMS to be maintained by all physicians (medical knowledge, patient care, interpersonal and communication skills, professionalism, practice-based learning and improvement, systems-based practice).
